Beethro's Torso

Attach the head here

This space reserved for the waist and legs
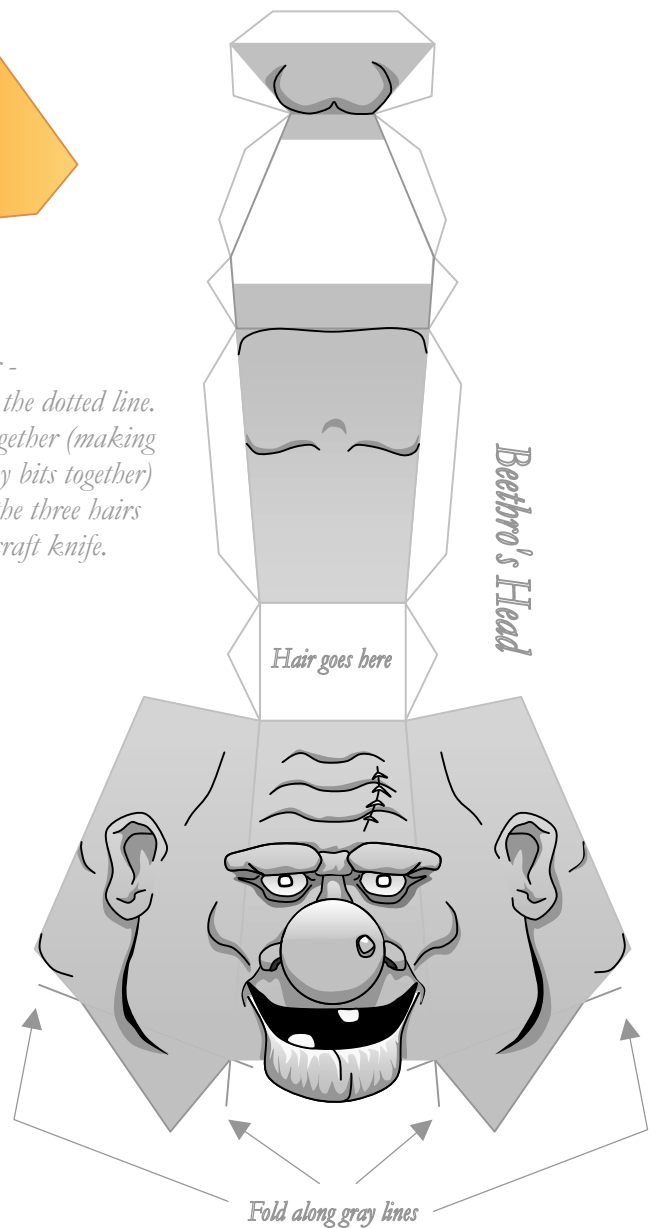

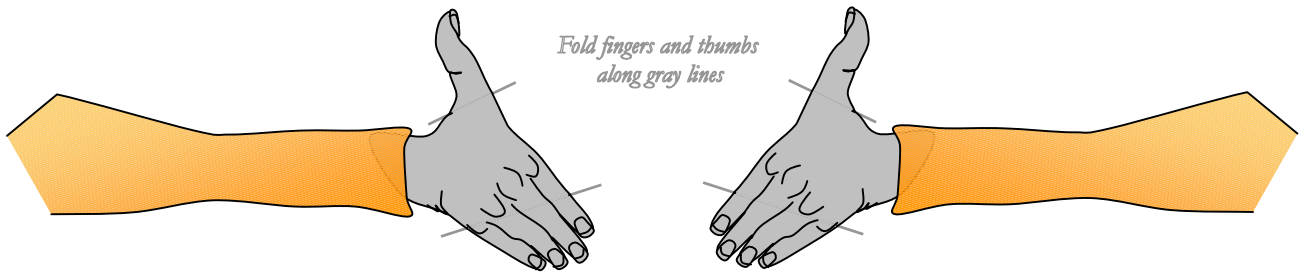

BEETHRO BUDKIN

Dungeon-delver of ~ noteworthy talent ~ & persistence.

by Josh Buczynski Beethro's Hair - Cut out and then fold along the dotted line.
Glue the two white boxes together (making sure not to glue the little gray bits together) and then carefully cut out the three hairs using tiny scissors or a craft knife.

Beethro's Head

Hair goes here

Fold along gray lines

Fold fingers and thumbs along gray lines
The really big sword, an heirloom of the Budkin family

Glue these leg interiors to the inside of the legs once the entire leg and waist piece is glued together.

Glue this portion to the underside of the torso

Beethro's Waist and Legs